

THE ARCHER FAMILY HISTORY

THE ARCHER FAMILY

April 1, 1949

The history of the Archer family, as we know it, must start with our Grandfather, William Asa Archer; and it must be remembered that the ancestral name was Archerd and that Grandfather dropped the "d" from the name. From various notes and letters in the family, we know that his father was Robert Archerd and his mother Laura Washburn. Laura is supposed to be descended from one Asa Washburn, who took part in the Revolutionary War; but I have so far been unable to find an authentic record of this relationship, although I have spent many hours at the Detroit Library going through all available books on the Washburn family in the Burton Historical Collection. I have also had several others trying to help me establish this relationship, but with no success, to date. So, for the time being, I shall have to give only the history we know factually. I am continuing the search, however, and if and when I can establish connection with the Washburn family, I shall issue a special bulletin to be attached to this geneology.

According to notes furnished me by Ernest Archer, the early history of the Archerd family is as follows: The first Archerd (given name not known) was of Scotch-Irish descent and came to this country from England. He settled first in Vermont, then went into Kentucky, being robbed of his money ($700.00) en route. Working in the woods, a tree fell on him, breaking his leg and making him a cripple for life. He fell in with an immigrant train, traveled to a point 22 miles above Cincinnati, and crossed the river into Clairmont Co., O. (near Richmond) where he cleared a farm. This Archerd was married twice, and by his first wife had five children; James, Syras, William, Robert, and Margaret (Peggy); and by his second wife two children, Hays, and Leonidas. Robert, our Great Grandfather, had three sons: John, married, but no children; William Asa, 12 children; and James, not married. There was also a half-brother, Ben Noble, who was killed in the Civil War.

William Asa Archer, Sr., was born at Charlestown, Ia. on Jan. 19, 1828 and was married in Cincinnati on Feb. 22, 1848 to Violette Barnes Sanders, who was born in England on Aug. 13, 1831 and came to this country at the age of two years. They evidently lived in Cincinnati until some time between 1861 and 1864, for the first seven children were born there up until 1861 and the eighth to twelfth in Prattsburg, Ind. from 1864 until 1872. It was during these years that Grandfather served in the Union Navy in the Civil War, and some time after 1872 the family moved to a farm near Martinstown, Putnam Co., Mo. Following is the geneological chart of the William Asa Archer, Sr., family:
